Study in Greece

The Gateway to the Greek Academic World

The internationalization of the Greek Higher Education represents a strategic direction built on a collaborative effort. With the development of a modern legal framework, the Greek state boosts the creation of international study programs by the Greek Universities.

Investing in the country's rich history and culture as well as in cutting-edge research and technological innovation, Greek universities offer more than 150 English taught Bachelors and Masters, as well as study abroad programs, across a wide range of disciplines, from History, Archaeology and Migration Studies to Medicine, Computer Science and Artificial Intelligence. The Greek approach to the internationalization of Higher Education is defined by its extroversion, inclusiveness and collaborative spirit. Greek universities are working in partnership with universities in the USA, UK, EU, China, India and more. Being the gateway to the Greek academic world, Study in Greece is the most important expression of Greek Higher Education's forward-looking vision.

SiG's portal is the central hub of information on:

The broad spectrum of international programs offered by Greek universities.
International collaborations between Greek and international institutions.
Applications & scholarships & internships.
Accommodation & insurance & everyday life in Greece.
Latest academic news & distinctions of Greek universities and academics.

We –at SiG– promote Greek universities abroad:

Using diverse digital marketing tools & social media.
Running international promotional campaigns in collaboration with international organizations – THE, UWN, Educations.com, L' étudiant.
Planning roadshow events & presentations in partner countries – like USA
Organization of Study in Greece Education Fairs.

We aspire to make Greece an international academic destination by connecting Greek universities to the rest of the world. On this purpose we foster partnerships & synergies between Greek and foreign institutions – such as the creation of joint and dual study programs.

Combining studies and culture

Implementing various study abroad programs and short-term courses – summer & winter schools in Greece, SiG promotes enhanced collaboration between Greek and international schools and academics and offers international students experiences that merge education with cultural immersion.

Innovating

Being the “one stop point” for the provision of information about the Greek Universities, SiG develops a series of digital platforms and tools – SiG Virtual Fair, MatSiG, AtSiG-@SiG, SiG Helpdesk, Ithaca, SiG Master's Catalog, SiG Scholarships– aimed at facilitating international academic networking, highlighting the study options offered in Greece, and informing the international public about the academic framework and its practicalities, culture, and everyday life in Greece.
